Improve Retention, Lower Your Churn Rate

Keep your existing lessees on the books. It's essential to growing your business.

Oftentimes, lessees don't remember what they signed up for two or three years earlier. Yet, based on that earlier decision, they have to decide what they'll do at the end of their lease: will they return their vehicle, extend their lease, begin a new lease, or purchase the vehicle?

Providing lessees the guidance they need can take precious resources away from bringing in new business...unless you outsource with a service provider that has experience managing large volumes of end-of-term leases.

defi has proven retention strategies that build lessee trust and revolve around nurturing relationships and educating lessees.

Educate Your Lessees

Lessees are the lifeblood of your business. They need nurturing. With Lease Maturity Management, your lessees will be educated well ahead of the time they need to make a decision on the end-of-lease term options available to them.

By clearly explaining their obligations as to vehicle wear and tear and excessive mileage, defi helps you avoid aggravating your lessees and losing their future business as there are no unexpected surprises when the final bill arrives. And, defi promptly sends final billing statements to your lessees, ensuring they aren't hit unexpectedly by fees and payments for a vehicle that they're no longer driving.

A healthy partnership with Lease Maturity Management can help keep your lessees happy.
